core values, goals, operations, and functions. The IQAC Coordinator suggesting holding three meetings over the academic year. All the members were asked to participate in an open debate on academic achievements by the chairperson, Dr. Rahul Shivaji Adnaik. He indicated that APCK felt that more outside experts should be included in the teaching-learning process and that the mentorship of all faculty members as well as students are necessary. Industrialist Dr. D. G. Gune discussed his experience with quality circles in business and suggested that similar circles may be created in each department and support area of the Institution. There is no replacement for the hard efforts, according to Mr. Prashant Sadashiv Kumbhar, Member Coordination Committee, APCK and it is necessary to accomplish overall institute growth. To achieve qualitative excellence clear cut actions and paths are required in all directions. So, in order to establish a quality standard, the institutes and departmental missions and visions need first to be developed.

Proposed by: Mr. Prashant Sadashiv Kumbhar

Seconded by: Mrs. Pratibha Rahul Adnaik
